FOREIGN WORDS AND PHRASES

Frequently Occurring in English Literature, Including Proverbs, Colloquial Expressions, Mottos of States and Nations, Current War Expressions.

Note for Pronunciation of Latin Expressions.

There are in use two methods of pronouncing Latin: one, the so-called English method, follows in general the principles of English pronunciation; the other, the so-called Roman method, follows more or less closely the pronunciation of the ancient Romans themselves. The English pronunciation is still generally used for Latin scientific terms, for names, phrases, and quotations in English context. The proper accentuation and syllabification according to the Roman method is here indicated for all Latin words and phrases. Then the pronunciation of the word or phrase according to the English method follows in parentheses; as, di'ri-go (dir'ī-gō). A Latin grammar should be consulted for further details of the Roman pronunciation.

TABLES OF WEIGHTS, MEASURES, AND MONEY.

The Meter, unit of length, is nearly the ten-millionth part of a quadrant of a meridian, or the distance between Equator and Pole. The International Standard Meter is, practically, a length defined by the distance between two lines on a platinum-iridium bar at 0° Centigrade, deposited at the International Bureau of Weights and Measures, Paris, France.

The Liter, unit of capacity, is derived from the weight of one kilogram pure water at greatest density, a cube whose edge is one-tenth of a meter and, therefore, the one-thousandth part of a metric ton.

The Gram, unit of weight, is a cube of pure water at greatest density, whose edge is one-hundredth of a meter, and, therefore, the one-thousandth part of a kilogram, and the one-millionth part of a metric ton.

The Metric System was legalized in the United States on July 28, 1866.

THE METRIC SYSTEM SIMPLIFIED.

The following tables of the metric system of weights and measures have been simplified as much as possible by omitting such denominations as are not in practical, everyday use in the countries where the system is used exclusively.

TABLES OF THE SYSTEM.

Length.

The denominations in practical use are millimeters (mm.), centimeters (cm.), meters (m.), and kilometers (km.).

10 millimeters =	1 centimeter.	100 centimeters =	1 meter.
10 centimeters =	1 decimeter.	1,000 meters =	1 kilometer.

Weight.

The denominations in use are gram (g.), kilogram (kg.), and ton (metric ton).
1,000 grams = 1 kilogram. 1,000 kilograms = 1 metric ton.

Capacity.

The denominations in use are cubic centimeter (c.c.) and liter (l.).

1,000 cubic centimeters =	1 liter.	100 liters =	1 hectoliter.
---------------------------	----------	--------------	---------------

Relation of capacity and weight to length: a cubic decimeter is a liter, and a liter of water weighs one kilogram.

APPROXIMATE EQUIVALENTS.

A meter is about a yard.
 A kilogram is about two pounds.
 A liter is about a quart.
 A centimeter is about one-half inch.
 A metric ton is about the same as a ton.
 A kilometer is about two-thirds of a mile.
 A cubic centimeter is about a thimbleful.
 A nickel weighs about five grams.

DOMESTIC WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

Apothecaries' Weight.

20 grains = 1 scruple.
 3 scruples = 1 dram.
 8 drams = 1 ounce.
 12 ounces = 1 pound.

TWO EPOCH MAKING CIVICS BOOKS

OUR COMMUNITY

FOR TOWNS AND CITIES

Samuel H. Ziegler, Director of Teaching of Civics, Cleveland, Ohio
Helen Jaquette, Frankford High School
Philadelphia, Pa.

"Our Community" treats the problems of life in cities and towns. Its aim is to make the pupil feel that the city and community in which he lives belongs to him, and that the public welfare depends upon his attitude towards civic problems. Its purpose also is to instil the love of liberty and democracy, to develop a keener realization of the privileges and dignity of citizenship through creating a community consciousness. Function rather than structure of government is emphasized throughout. This book is designed for use in the late grammar, junior, or first year high school grades, and conforms to the plan of United States Bulletin No. 23.

Price, 90 cents.

OUR NEIGHBORHOOD

FOR RURAL COMMUNITIES

John F. Smith, Professor of Social Science
Berea College Academy
Berea, Kentucky

"Our Neighborhood" treats the problems of country life. The author, from close association, clearly sets forth the neighborhood need of co-operation in such matters as health, larger crops, better roads, good schools, pure water, protection of wild life, clean elections, etc. It teaches country people to deal with the practical needs in their neighborhood in a practical way; and rightly assumes that if a boy or girl is taught from early years to have the proper attitude toward the questions that confront them daily, they will also have the proper attitude later in life toward their state and national governments. This book is designed for use in the sixth, seventh or eighth grades.

Price, 80 cents.

A HISTORY FOR THE SIXTH GRADE

OUR BEGINNINGS IN EUROPE AND AMERICA

Smith Burnham, State Normal School, West Chester, Pa.

“Our Beginnings in Europe and America” is designed to conform to the recommendations of the Committee of Eight of the American Historical Association and the National Educational Association and really tells what the earlier peoples of Europe contributed to our civilization.

Mr. Burnham, the author, instead of simply preparing a primer of ancient history, has written a most interesting narrative, clearly setting forth how civilization grew in the Old World and then spread to the New. He has constantly emphasized the interrelation existing between the Old World life and our modern civilization. He tells the pupil what he ought to know about the Romans and what we got from their civilization; what we owe the Greeks; what the Hebrews contributed; our heritage from England, etc.

Any pupil who studies this book will have a splendid foundation and background for the intensive study of American history to follow in the seventh and eighth grades.

The book is splendidly illustrated with pictures which have been especially selected to correlate with the text. There are over 250 illustrations including eighteen maps, five of which are in color.

The Most Beautiful Readers Ever Published

THE WINSTON READERS

Sidney G. Firman, Supt. of Schools, Glen Ridge, N. J.—Ethel H. Maltby, Corning, N. Y.—Frederick Richardson, Illustrator, Chicago, Illinois

THE WINSTON READERS comprise a series of six books and are designed for supplementary and basal use. Their content or subject matter has been selected from the best literature of childhood. It contains stories and poems which have come down to us as literary gems, carefully arranged and properly graded.

THE BEAUTIFUL FOUR - COLOR ILLUSTRATIONS by Frederick Richardson, portray and interpret these stories so vividly that the combination of beautiful illustrations and excellence of content make them the most appealing set of readers ever offered for children.

INTERLEAVED MANUALS—The Winston Readers, when used basically, provide interleaved manuals for the teacher, which give teaching instructions for the daily lesson. These interleaved manuals are a distinct contribution and are different from all others in that they supply the teacher with a book containing the identical pages of the pupils' books with teaching instructions opposite each page. The experienced teacher will welcome these manuals as they will save her time and labor. To the young and inexperienced teacher, they will be most invaluable as they provide a systematic development of the method day by day, lesson by lesson. The arrangement of giving the pupils' pages with teaching instructions opposite in the Winston Interleaved Manuals has received the endorsement of educators throughout the country, the wonder being expressed that such a sensible and logical plan had not been provided before.

THE WINSTON METHOD is a culmination and refinement of the several accepted plans for the teaching of reading now pedagogically endorsed. It is direct, easy and simple and with the interleaved manuals in the hands of the teacher, is most resultful.
